CFPC Member, Wendy Norman, MD, CCFP, FCFP Honoured by the Federation of Medical Women of Canada

(Mississauga, ON, March 23, 2015) – The College of Family Physicians of Canada (CFPC) congratulates College member and Chair of the Section of Researchers, Dr. Wendy Norman who was announced as the recipient of the 2015 Enid Johnson MacLeod Award by the Federation of Medical Women of Canada (FMWC) on February 23, 2015. This award recognizes an FMWC member who has made the most significant contribution to the promotion of women’s health research and/or women’s health education.

Dr. Norman is a family physician, educator, and researcher in British Columbia. Since 1997, she has led an innovative family planning research program, the Canadian Contraception Research Team—Groupe de recherche sur l’accessibilité à la contraception (CART-GRAC)—of the Women’s Health Research Institute, BC Women’s Hospital. She is committed to enhancing access to high-quality family planning knowledge, methods, and services for Canadian women.

“The CFPC is very proud of Dr. Norman’s outstanding work as a respected family physician and researcher with a dedicated focus on enhancing health care for women,” says CFPC Executive Director and CEO, Dr. Francine Lemire, CCFP, FCFP. “We commend Dr. Norman on her success in being honoured by the FMWC with the 2015 Enid Johnson MacLeod Award. It is well deserved recognition of her tremendous achievements.”

In addition to her role with the Section of Researchers, Dr. Norman serves as Assistant Professor and Director, Clinician Scholar Program, Department of Family Practice, at the University of British Columbia (UBC); Associate Member, School of Population and Public Health, and Department of Obstetrics and Gynecology, UBC; Chair of Applied Public Health Research, Canadian Institutes of Health Research (CIHR), Public Health Agency of Canada; and Scholar, Michael Smith Foundation for Health Research.

On September 26, 2015, a formal presentation of the award will take place in Toronto during the FMWC’s Awards Luncheon.
