 Requests Your Assistance!

Welcome to the June issue of Canadian Family Physician. This month, we have a number of interesting articles and commentaries that we hope will be of interest to you. Read on to learn more about the 14th Canadian Collaborative Mental Health Care Conference (14th CCMHCC), which was held in May, and the importance of palliative care.

1. Newsletter Announcements

The CFPC is pleased to announce two new initiatives for the development of primary care in rural areas. The first is the Rural Family Physician Development (RFPD) Program, which is designed to support the development of rural family physicians in Canada. The second is the Rural Community Health Service (RCHS) Program, which is designed to provide primary care services in rural communities.

2. CFPC News

The CFPC has launched a new website, www.famphyscan.ca, which will provide members with easy access to information about the College and its activities. The website will also feature a new online journal, Canadian Journal of Family Medicine, which will be available for free to members.

3. President’s Message

President’s Message: Strengthening the Practice Environment

In this month’s President’s Message, Dr. Ismael Colaco discusses the importance of strengthening the practice environment for family physicians. He highlights the need to address the impact of regulatory changes on family physicians, as well as the importance of providing adequate resources to support family physicians in their work.

4. Section News

The CFPC Section of Residents Representative Council met on May 31st and discussed a number of important issues. The meeting was attended by the Chairs of the SIFP Program Committees, and a number of recommendations were made to improve the SIFP program.

5. Conference News

We are pleased to invite you to attend the 14th Canadian Collaborative Mental Health Care Conference (14th CCMHCC), which will be held on June 3rd and 4th in Vancouver.

6. Member News

The CFPC is pleased to announce that the 14th Canadian Collaborative Mental Health Care Conference (14th CCMHCC) will take place on June 3rd and 4th in Vancouver.

7. Continuing Professional Development

The CFPC is committed to ensuring that family physicians have access to the latest information about the practice of family medicine. To this end, the College has developed a new online journal, Canadian Journal of Family Medicine, which will be available for free to members.

8. Publishing Information

The Canadian Journal of Family Medicine is available online for free to CFPC members. For non-members, the journal is available for a fee. The journal is published monthly, and the current issue is available online.

9. Subscribe to the CFPC Newsletter

If you would like to receive updates about the CFPC, please subscribe to our newsletter. You can do so by visiting our website, www.famphyscan.ca, and clicking on the “Subscribe to the CFPC Newsletter” link.

10. Follow Us on Twitter

The CFPC is active on Twitter, and you can follow us using the handle @FamPhysCan. Follow us on Twitter to stay up-to-date on the latest news and information about the College.

11. Profile/Email Address

If you wish to change your profile or email address, please contact the CFPC at info@famphyscan.ca or by phone at 1-800-668-2323.

12. RSS Feed

You can subscribe to the RSS feed for the CFPC newsletter using the following URL: http://campaign.r20.constantcontact.com/...pTHLBqC2SB_0EcHabebDgG1vWYJTpEbxacIwxj2hFhq3Ym1BqH09BA4u2unzHwO___HLBtW

13. Privacy Policy

This email was sent to sgopaul@cfpc.ca by cfpc@cfpc.ca. If you wish to unsubscribe, please follow the unsubscribe instructions at the bottom of the email.