

Just released: Guide for Improvement of Family Medicine Training (GIFT)

Developed by residents for residents, the Guide to Chronic (Non-Cancer/Non-Palliative) Pain Management With Patients Already on Opioid Therapy offers a practical and informed approach that draws on feedback from College of Family Physicians of Canada (CFPC) members with expertise in chronic pain and addiction medicine. Access the following resources to discuss and share with your learners and peers:

- Full guide: <https://www.cfpc.ca/CFPC/media/PDF/Guide-chronic-pain-GIFT-1pager-ENG.pdf>
- Poster: <https://www.cfpc.ca/CFPC/media/PDF/Guide-chronic-pain-GIFT-poster-ENG.pdf>
- Lanyard card: <https://www.cfpc.ca/CFPC/media/PDF/Guide-chronic-pain-GIFT-Lanyard-ENG.pdf>

Registration for Family Medicine Forum (FMF) 2020 now open

We encourage you to register for FMF to participate in a variety of faculty development and networking sessions. Be sure to sign up for our 2020 Celebrating Family Medicine Teaching Excellence live virtual event: <https://fmf.cfpc.ca/>. All are welcome; registration for FMF is not required to participate. The event is complimentary and features awards presentations and the creative entertainment that you have come to love and expect from the Section of Teachers, including acts with talented family physicians. Sport your best socks and join us for an unforgettable live virtual experience.

Recorded webinar tackles racism in medical training

The recording of our most recent webinar, “Courageous Conversations: Shining a light on racism in medical education,” is now available:

<https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=u5NHp4mUupM>.

In this webinar Drs. Aimée-Angélique Bouka, Sarah Funnell, and Amy Tan joined host Dr. Ivy Oandasan to discuss how family medicine teachers, preceptors, and educational leaders can talk about and address racism in medical education. Please email education@cfpc.ca to share your feedback on this important topic and suggestions on how to continue the conversation.

New resources

We have added new resources to our Faculty Development Resource Repository that address virtual teaching: <https://communities.cfpc.ca/committees~5/repository>. You can also visit the CFPC’s COVID-19 Information and Resources web page for the latest pandemic-related guides and tools: <https://www.cfpc.ca/coronavirus-information-resources-news>.

Thank you for the important work you do as teachers, preceptors, and educational leaders.

The Section of Teachers supports you.

Have ideas about how else we can assist you? Have a resource worth sharing? Let us know!

Email us or complete this quick survey:

<https://ca.surveygizmo.com/s3/50058413/Section-of-Teachers-SOT-Community-Feedback>

The Section of Teachers | The College of Family Physicians of Canada
905-629-0900 | education@cfpc.ca | www.cfpc.ca/SectionofTeachers