

I teach because...

Residents inspire me and teach ME so much!

-Eric (Ottawa)

Your Day With a Learner: Let's talk tips!

Join the Webinar

Tuesday, May 28th, 12:00 p.m. to 1:00 p.m. (ET)
Presented by Dr. Allyn Walsh and Dr. Lyne Ménard

Are you a new—or not so new—clinical preceptor who would like to make your teaching pop? In this webinar we will discuss some basic tips for teaching in your office.

The webinar is free for CFPC members and will be offered in English, with slides and Q&A in both English and French.

This live webinar has been certified for one Mainpro+® credit.

No pre-registration is required.

Latest blog

In our latest blog on the Canadian Family Physician website, the CFPC's Scientific Editor Dr. Nicholas Pimlott reflects on painting the big picture for learners.

Do you have an idea to share? Submit your blog about the past, present, or future of family medicine teaching.

Call to Action

Do you have topics that you would like to discuss with fellow teachers and preceptors?

The Knowledge Café is held annually at Family Medicine Forum, during lunch on Wednesday. It features facilitated discussion tables on topics that span the educational continuum and aims to build a supportive teaching community of practice.

Submit your suggested topics!

Spotlight On: Teaching Moments

Did you know that Canadian Family Physician has a quarterly Teaching Moment section with helpful articles for preceptors, teachers, and educational leaders?

Enhance your teaching practice by reviewing these helpful articles or submit your own.

education@cfpc.ca

The Section of Teachers | The College of Family Physicians of Canada | 905 629 0900 | education@cfpc.ca | www.cfpc.ca/SectionofTeachers/

STAY CONNECTED

